No-Sew Spooky Halloween Bunting

By: Julia for Everyday Mom Ideas

This lovely bunting is the perfect Halloween decoration if you don't have a ton of time or money but still want to add something festive to your home for the holiday. You probably already have many of the necessary supplies for this project, and all you need is an hour or two to finish the whole thing!

Materials:

- Hot glue gun
- 1 sheet of card stock paper
- 2 white pop bottle caps
- Permanent marker
- 1/4th yard of orange fabric
- 1/4 yard of black fabric
- 1/4 yard of burlap fabric

Instructions:

1) Cut the sides off the card stock to create a long triangle.

2) Use the card-stock triangle as a template to cut 8 triangles out of the orange fabric.

3) Draw on the letters for SPOOKY with a permanent marker on the burlap fabric.

4) Cut out the letters, but do not cut directly on the outline. Leave a little bit of room.

5) Cut two 4 inch by 4 inch squares out of the burlap.

6) Fold the burlap square accordion-like back and forth. Pinch the middle and hot glue the folds in the middle so that it will hold the bow-like shape.

7) Use a permanent marker to draw spiders and/or ghosts on each of the white bottle caps.

8) Lay out all your pieces the way you want and then glue your words and embellishment bows to the orange flags.

9) To make the fabric rope for the top of the banner, cut strips out of the black fabric.

10) Tie the strips together so it's long enough to put all the flags on and add two feet.

11) After you have it the length that you need, go ahead and tie knots every inch or so.

12) Hot glue the fabric rope you just made to the front top of the flags to secure it.

Wooden Candy Corn Decor

By: Jessica for Chapman Place

We love the rustic look of this cute Wooden Candy Corn Decor. These candy corn crafts look so polished, they'd be a great decoration to keep around all Autumn long!

Materials:

- 1x10x16 piece of wood
- Bead-board
- Saw
- Paint (yellow, orange, white)
- Small nails
- Walnut stain
- Sandpaper

Instructions:

1) Cut triangles out of the wood board and the bead-board.

2) Sand the edges and corners of the board and bead-board, until they become rounded.

3) Paint the triangles to look like candy corn, making sure that the lines on the wood board and on the bead-board match up.

4) Distress. This involves sanding various spots on the wood and bead-board. If you get it down to the wood, when you go over everything with the stain it will make those spots darker and aged. The edges are the easiest to sand, but try to sand in the middle as well.

5) Wipe walnut stain all over the board and bead-board. Let sit for a minute so it can soak in. After the minute, use a paper towel and wipe off any excess.

6) Place the bead-board on top of the wood. Line the paint lines up and nail in place. You could use glue if you wish.

7) Decorate with different fall items (leaves, berries, twine, etc.).

Monster Decorations from Juice Boxes

By: Amanda for Crafts By Amanda

Gather some recycled juice boxes and some felt and let your kids get creative making these silly monster decorations! They'll have a blast making their own designs and displaying them in the window for everyone to see!

Materials:

- Juice boxes
- Rice (or anything to give monsters some weight)
- Zipper sandwich bags
- Tape
- Felt
- Scissors
- Hot glue or felt glue

Instructions:

1) Cut open the top of the juice box.

2) Put some rice (about ½ cup) into a sandwich baggie, squeeze out the air and seal it.

3) Put the rice bag inside the juice box and reseal the top with tape.

4) Line the bottom of the juice box up with the bottom of the felt. Glue the felt around the juice box, leaving the bottom open so that it can stand well.

5) Optional: For the monster with the big tube on his head, you'll want to wrap something around the top (chenille works well) and trim the ends.

6) Optional: If you want to give your monster hair, fringe some felt before gluing it around the box. You'll need to add a rectangle of felt to the top of the box since the hair won't cover the top.

7) Begin adding facial features to your monsters.

8) Cut out some teeth, fangs, polka dots, stripes, whatever strikes your fancy and glue them to the boxes.
